

KEEP SCOTLAND BEAUTIFUL

336lbs of litter is left in a SCOTTISH CASTLE every second of every day of every year since...

DEAR KEEP SCOTLAND BEAUTIFUL,

On your "Keep Scotland Beautiful" website, it is claimed that your organisation leads the way in improving Scotland's environment. You are keen on keeping Scotland free from litter. That's good, very good.

With respect though, could you all give serious consideration to removing forthwith the filthiest piece of litter ever, which is currently languishing around in a very prominent place in Scotland, please?

The offending article in question, currently resides in your capital city of Edinburgh. It is the most shameful slab of masonry stonework which has ever been constructed on the planet. It's an even bigger fake than the Sea of Tranquillity Moon Landings, in 1969.

While the stone con is much older than Neil Armstrong's tiny little step, the sickly stunt pulled with the stone, was physically unleashed directly upon Scotland, when Randy Andy, the fake queen's second eldest son, slip-slided his way into ceremoniously placing this slab of worthless sandstone, in the castle in 1996.

And foolishly, all of Scotland rejoiced!

Ever since, The Hierarchy Enslaving You (T.H.E.Y.) have been having a huge laugh at your expense.

The Scottish people have the audacity to call this phony pillar-stone The Stone of Destiny. You have all been duped.

It is anything but that, and with this monstrosity still residing in Scotland, and worshipped like an ancient pagan relic, it remains an abomination to God and Christ in His Second Coming.

The Scottish people need come to terms with the terrible truth, before it is too late, and there is little or no time left for you to awaken from your slumber.

The only thing this rectangular relic is fit for, is at best, for it to be wrapped up with thick Scottish thistle and rammed up Mrs. Battenberg's rectum, or alternatively, at worst, for it to be dumped in the bottom of the English Sea of Servility, preferably with her not so royal highness, chained to it, by her neck.

I am of course talking about the fake queen Elizabeth here. This woman was the one who orchestrated it being put in the castle in the first place.

Shamefully, the great majority of Scottish people are blind to this evil enactment, carried out under John Major's Machiavellian Maverick Tories.

There are basically three categories of Scottish people:

- (1) those that know about the fake stone, but from apathy or self-interest, do or say nothing for truth;
- (2) those that are still blind to the deceit;
- (3) those that are willing to stand up and fight for Scotland's integrity, in order to combat this, the mother of SCAMS, as inflicted on the Scottish people.

Men and women of Scotland become complicit in the evil, they fail to oppose.

Those in the above category one, will all be duly punished for high-treason in accordance with God's Law, soon enough. Those in category two, who willfully remain blind and apathetic, should not think they will be immune from severe punishment in due course.

Those in category three, will be increasing their chances to survive what's coming.

By way of illustration, this motley crew as shown on the link below, will be the first appearing on CHRIST'S LIST, for HIGH TREASON.

<http://jahtalk.thefarrellreport.net/back-to-bethel/>

In short, the very last thing Scotland needs right now, is to keep on hoarding a cloned-stone.

The only thing necessary to improve Scotland's environment and keep Scotland beautiful, in a sustainable manner, is for the people of Scotland to stop all this silly pretence; rid itself once and for all of this fake stone; and bring out The REAL, but hitherto hidden, STONE OF DESTINY, that's been concealed somewhere in Scotland since 1950, and place it before Christ, The King of Scotland, who is here right now, in His Second Coming, waiting patiently for you, the people of Scotland, as part of a once great nation, to wake up from your slumber.

Yours sincerely,

A JEDI Knight

